Grant Opportunities Available for Addressing TRO Issues

The following information lists possible grant opportunities available for addressing tamarisk and Russian olive (TRO) issues and riparian restoration. The tables are divided into Non-profit Foundations, Corporate, and Other Funding Sources; Federal and State Grants; and Congress Chartered Foundations.

This list of grant opportunities has been compiled as a tool to be used as a starting point for grant funding research. This list is not exhaustive and is designed only to provide an overview of available grants. For more detailed information, utilize the resources listed below, visit the funding source's website, or contact the funding source directly.

- ✓ Environmental Grantmaking Foundations www.environmentalgrants.com
- ✓ Center for Invasive Plant Management www.weedcenter.org
- ✓ Federal Government www.grants.gov

The activities funded by the grantors have been categorized as Advocacy, Education, Policy, Direct Action, Research, and Start Up. The following categories are defined to aid in selecting appropriate grants. Individual grantors may define categories somewhat differently.

Advocacy (Adv) includes activities associated with communicating about TRO issues such as organizing community meetings or distributing public education materials.

Education (Edu) involves direct education programs to a targeted group.

Policy (Pol) is defined as activities related to influencing and/or developing environmental policies.

Direct Action (Dir) includes activities such as volunteerism, control, revegetation, and other direct implementations.

Research (Res) is defined as planning and implementing basic scientific research.

Start Up (SU) is defined as funds for a new project (“seed money”) or funds for a new organization.

Geographic information is included to indicate the physical locations that are emphasized by the grantor. The geographic information included in this report only reflects grants that are applicable to the seven Colorado River Basin States.

Blank spaces indicate that no information was available. Grants and grantors are subject to change at any time for a variety of reasons. It is critical that the funding sources are contacted for the most current information before any type of grant submission.
